

Space Business Co-Creation Platform

cross U

Our Services

The space industry is attracting attention as an innovative field with a wide range of adjacent areas.

The global space business market size was approximately 50 trillion yen*¹ in 2020.
In Japan, the market is expected to expand further as well, with government support of up to 1 trillion yen in the form of the "Space Strategy Fund" starting in FY 2024

The global space business market continues to grow and is predicted to reach 150 trillion yen by 2040

Providing "places" and a "community" to create innovation in space-related businesses.

Providing places

We offer a variety of "places" to accelerate the space business

Building a community

We provide business matching, events, programs, etc.

Supporting business expansion by building an ecosystem that brings the latest knowledge and information together with domestic and international space-related players from industry, government, and academia

Gather

Companies, start-ups, and academia involved in the space business gather from Japan and overseas.

Connect

That gathering will attract players in the areas surrounding the space business and promote a wide range of exchanges and spreading of information.

Co-create

Accelerators and VCs will also gather to integrate cutting-edge technology and create a variety of businesses.

Expand

Innovation will accelerate and business fields in space-related areas will expand into various other areas.

Nihonbashi is a geographically very convenient place for access to the major areas of Tokyo.

Our objective is to establish a comprehensive network of industry, academic, research, and government entities across all sectors to foster collaboration and knowledge exchange in the space industry.

We facilitate exchanging members and sharing information through co-hosted events, sponsored events, and announcements.
